Submission guidelines

As an independent non-profit and non-political publication, ipisi magazine endeavours to maintain high standards of professionalism in all articles. Ipisi magazine recognises the right to free speech and encourages young people to voice their opinions, within certain criteria outlined below;

Aims:

- To inspire and inform young people about issues and events that are relevant to them.
- To engage and stimulate young people with clear, informative and objective articles.
- To promote discussion and involvement regarding issues at hand

Content:

- All articles must respect Australian laws regarding discrimination based on race, ethnicity, gender, sexual preference, socio-economic status, religion or belief.
- All submissions must reflect a respect for the views and opinions of others.
- All issue-based submissions should endeavour to objectively examine the issue at hand, without drawing politically motivated conclusions.
- Contributors of opinion pieces are encouraged to take a position regarding the issue.
- Contributors must disclose any membership or affiliation with a topic where a conflict of interest may be deemed to exist.

Length:

- Feature articles can be up 1500 words in length
- General Submission articles should be between 500-750 words
- These guidelines are flexible, and can be negotiated with the publishers.

Images:

- Photos and images must comply with copyright restrictions in Australia
- All images will be credited to their copyright holder.
- Images can be emailed in any format, however there is a preference for files to be in *.jpg format. Hard copies can also be posted to the magazine upon request.

Editorial Privilege:

- The editors of ipisi magazine reserve the right to edit or omit any submission.
- Where possible, the contributor of such submissions will be notified of any changes.
- Any submission deemed to be overtly biased will be returned to the contributor for rewriting.
- The copyright holder retains ownership of all submissions, providing ipisi with unrestricted use for promotional uses (including web-based use)

Submissions should be sent to ipisi@212.com
