

Peace Day Promise

Ida Grändås

I have no home right now and on the Peace Day, I am going to be on the way to Bosnia and Herzegovina. My trip is not yet well planned, so I found it very hard for me to make a good plan for the Peace Day Promise. I have therefore decided to make my action wherever I am.

On the day, I will send an email to all my friends about the Peace Day. I am going to write about what the day is about and why it is important to notice the day. I am also going to write some inspiration to make a change in the world.

I am also going to make flyers to carry with me and give out to people I meet.
