Elevyn is an online platform to empower marginalized communities. We enable rural entrepreneurs and non-government organizations (NGOs) to set up online shops and sell their crafts to a global market.

Our goal? To improve the standards of living and financial independence of marginalized communities.

How does it work?

Communities, NGOs and entrepreneurs set up online shops on Elevyn. They post product info, upload pictures, receive orders, etc.

To ensure that these shops benefit the community, 5% off every sale automatically goes to a fund which supports a Cause.

How is it different from eBay?

Elevyn incorporates many elements that are designed to benefit community-based sellers. For example, each shop MUST be tied to a Cause - where every item sold will also fund the Cause.

Additionally, the Elevyn marketplace is made up of like-minded, socially-conscious consumers. We are able to provide a strong market niche for sellers right off the bat.

What are Causes?

Causes are community-based “projects” with a specific mini-goal in mind. For example, “Raise $300 to buy books for the local school”. Causes are submitted by members and/or NGO’s - we then work with the relevant field partners to ensure transparency and more importantly, the beneficial effect of the cause.

How much does it cost?

Opening an Elevyn shop is free. We collect fees from:

- Listing fee - USD 0.10 for every item listed.
- Selling fee - 5% off each item sold.
