We believe in the unity of mankind - that all people matter, and that the world be run under one system, as one planet, ensuring mankind's survival.

We believe that the word “Poverty” should be removed from our dictionary and that there should no longer be poor countries or poor people on our planet.

We believe that it is the differences between us which make life interesting, and that we should cherish these differences, not ignore them.

When it comes down to it, it is the people of our world who have to change our world, and we can only start with ourselves.
