

TIGed offers a variety of professional development offerings in our three pillar program areas: global citizenship, environmental stewardship, and student voice. With flexible online and in-person options, we can meet the needs of individual educators and administrators, as well as groups. Choose from flexible online offerings such as e-courses, online learning circles, and free webinars, as well as keynotes and in-service workshops delivered in person at your convenience. Learn more about our professional development offerings by exploring the information found here, or by contacting us at pd@tigated.org

Our Offerings

e-Courses

Our graduate level, accredited e-courses attract educators from around the world. Identifying practical ways to implement pedagogies that reinforce the development of 21st century skills in students is the primary focus of these offerings. Each course is designed to support educators' unique needs and curriculum requirements, and is facilitated by one of our experienced instructors.

In-service Workshops

In-service workshops provide educators with the hands-on experience needed to learn how to implement technology-enabled global education. Choose from a variety of 3-hour workshops, or have us deliver them all!

Event Keynotes

Have one of TakingITGlobal's inspiring co-founders deliver a keynote address for your school or organization! Educators and youth alike will be engaged in a dynamic exploration of what it means to live, learn and lead in the 21st century. Keynotes can be customized to suit the unique needs and interests of your audience.

Webinars

Learn more about TIG and TIGed through a series of free, online webinars that introduce our platform and programs. Join us for a comprehensive web tour, a demonstration of our virtual classroom and collaboration space, and an overview all of the resources and opportunities available to you through our educational community.

Online Learning Circles

Online learning circles are a series of webinars tailored around the interests expressed by your school or organization. We will work with your group to design a custom learning program, delivered online and scheduled at your convenience.
